

ThinkForward FutureMe Progression Coach

Job information pack

About ThinkForward

ThinkForward exists to support young people to create better and brighter futures. We want them to be able to identify, realise and shape their aspirations and be ready to make a successful transition into work.

Young people experiencing barriers such as challenging relationships, living in low-income households, or growing up in areas with a lack of access to opportunities can be confronted with hurdles. Without the right support, these barriers can lead to a high risk of unemployment and long-term effects on career and life chances.

There are more than 900,000 16-24-year-olds in the UK who are not at school or college, or don't have a job or training place. Our ambition is to prevent young people becoming one of these statistics.

In 2025, we will be supporting more than 1,500 young people.

About our programmes

The FutureMe programme provides five years of personalised coaching and employability activities to get young people ready for the world of work. Coaches build trusted relationships, supporting young people to take control, find solutions to challenges, develop skills and create a positive vision for their future.

Specialised ready for work activities support young people to get familiar with the workplace, become inspired and identify a pathway to their chosen career. We run this programme in 15 schools in North and East London, Nottingham and Kent.

About our programmes

The Making Strides programme operates in London and Birmingham, working with young adults who have learning disabilities and/or autism with the aim of supporting them into sustainable paid employment.

Coaches provide long-term support to prepare young people for sustainable paid employment. Young people take part in insight visits, work placements and business mentoring to build their experience and develop skills and capabilities. We also work closely with parents to engage them in the opportunities and benefits of the programme.

About our programmes

The Future Leaders programme works with young Black men and women that are at risk of exclusion or have been excluded from mainstream school.

In London, young Black students are more likely to be excluded from school than white British students and young Black men experience disproportionately high unemployment rates.

To tackle these issues, Future Leaders supports Black students in alternative provisions and schools to make a successful transition into a post-16 destination, overcome the barriers they may face such as a lack of networks, social capital and soft skills, and prepare them to be ready to find a fulfilling career.

About the role

The FutureMe programme provides young people with personalised one-to-one coaching and group activities, as well as exposure to the world of work and enrichment activities to broaden their horizons and provide experience of the workplace.

The key to our success is our highly skilled coaches who build consistent, trusted relationships with their young people. Coaching enables young people to overcome challenges holding them back from achieving their potential and guides them onto a successful pathway into employment and adulthood. Our young people are supported by FutureMe for five years, from 13 to 18 years old.

Coaches run the FutureMe programme within one of our schools and the local community, ensuring that quality and impact are achieved. They are also responsible for managing successful relationships with their partner school and businesses.

If this sounds like your kind of role, we want to hear from you!
